5. CONCLUSIONS:

After conducting a comprehensive assessment of the "Burgers Bar" website, several conclusions can be drawn regarding its quality assurance (QA) practices.

Firstly, it is evident that the brand either lacks a dedicated QA team or does not employ them on a full-time and continuous basis.

The presence of numerous bugs throughout the site supports this observation.

These bugs can be categorized into different levels of severity, with our week-long examination uncovering a total of 22 bugs.

The breakdown by severity is as follows: 2 "Low," 10"Minor," and 10 "Major."

Furthermore, we identified several aspects of the site that are counter-intuitive and impractical for users.

These elements hinder the overall user experience and detract from productivity.

Considering these findings, it is evident that a website redesign is necessary. Such a redesign would not only enhance the user experience but also improve the company's image.

Created and published by: Yaacov Mettoudi

It is important to note that despite these issues, the core functionality of the site, which is to order meals, remains fully operational and functional.

In the main menu of the page click on "Burgers Meals"
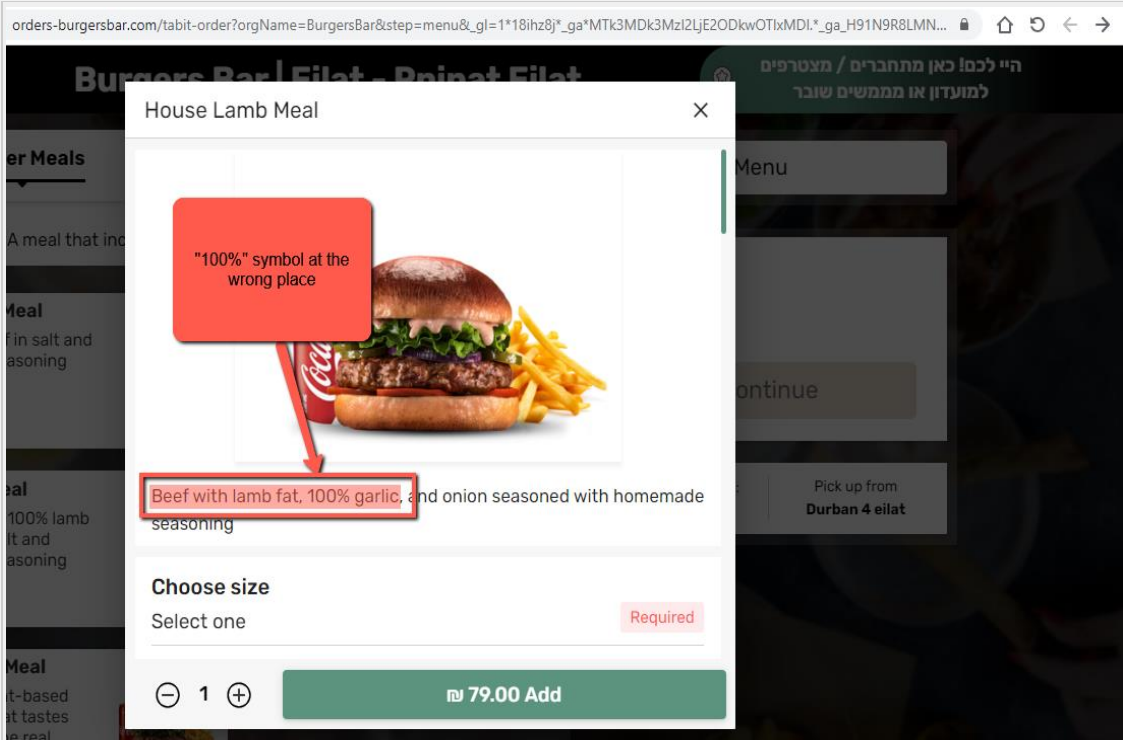

Choose the "House Lamb Meal"

Look at the description of the burger " Beef with lamb fat, 100% garlic…"

We could think that we have "100% garlic" in the buger when we read the descritption, but we understand that they meant "100% beef" like we see in the descritpion of the others burgers
